

Simmons & Simmons Luxembourg LLP continues expansion of investment funds with Counsel C line Reymond

Simmons & Simmons Luxembourg announced its further expansion with the addition of C line Reymond as Counsel in the Investment Funds team. Her hire follows the recent arrival of private funds partner Peter Leguitin in July, demonstrating Simmons' commitment to complementing and expanding their investment funds and asset management practice in this jurisdiction.

C line is an accomplished funds lawyer who advises investment fund managers in all phases of the fund life cycle. She is well versed in investment funds from their formation and fund raising to liquidation, authorisation process, negotiation with investors, transactions and third party financing for the acquisition of assets. She also brings extensive experience advising investors in contentious situations.

C line assists clients in funds due diligence, co-investment programmes, the migration of assets in distressed situations and repatriation of profits. C line also advises independent liquidators and directors, from all types of Luxembourg-based funds, on the legal and regulatory aspects of their roles.

Prior to joining Simmons & Simmons, C line was a member of leading fund formation teams and most recently a member of a niche litigation practice.

Augustin de Longeaux, Head of Simmons Luxembourg fund formation group commented: "Expanding the depth of our funds and asset management practice is a key strategic focus for us, and C line's impressive track record notably in funds litigation will be a tremendous asset to our clients and the firm".
