

Luxembourg law firm Wildgen in a movie clip directed by Rows Film

Luxembourg law firm Wildgen recently released a movie clip directed by Rows Film. With no make-up, costumes, or scenery. Just passion, engagement and the pugnacity of its dedicated lawyers, perfectly represented and staged by the promising filmmaker Samuel Perez .

Since its foundation in 1923, the law firm has always worked through hard situations. Today, they are stronger and more resilient than ever. This is what they wanted to share in their video, shot during the COVID19 pandemic. “It is the reflection of the firm’s spirit, our motivation and values, and it demonstrates our adaptability and commitment to serving our clients, whatever happens”, says Stephanie Leclercq, CMO at Wildgen.

Their movie is available on their YouTube channel and website: <https://www.wildgen.lu/our-insights/article/wildgen-resilient-and-forward-thinking-law-firm>
